

Get all tangled up

You can make miniature figures by poking loose wool with a barbed needle

GET CRAFTY

Lisabel Ting

Create miniature decorative figures out of loose wool just by poking the wool repeatedly with a needle.

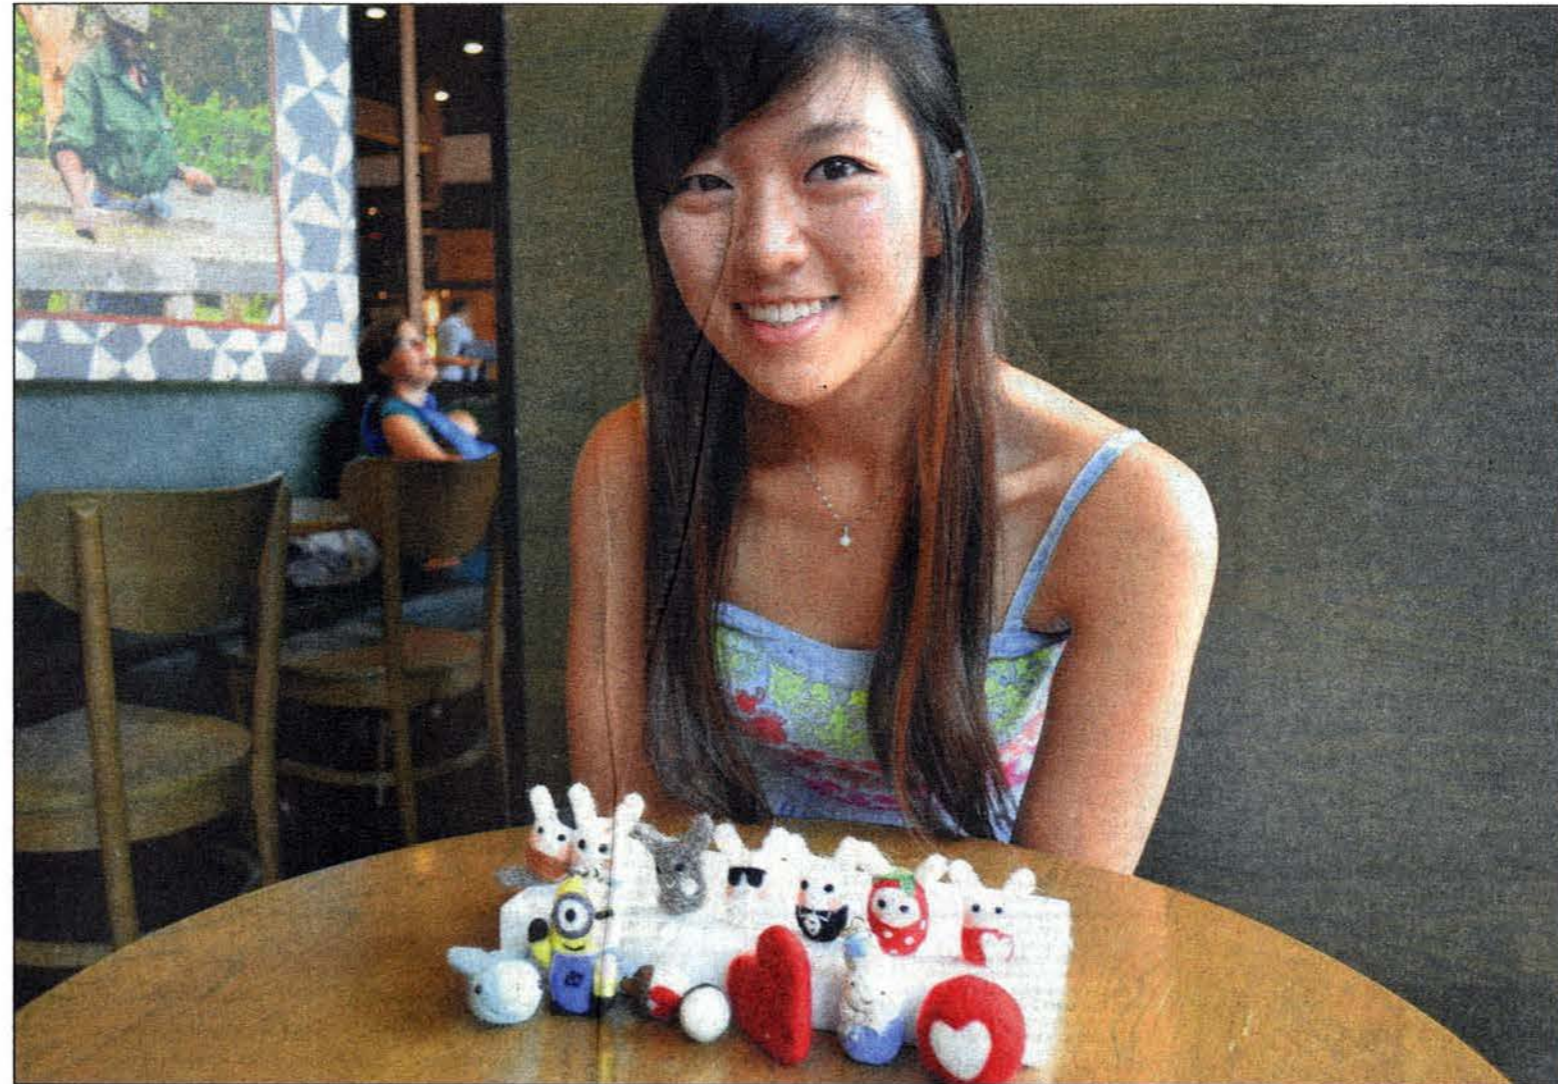

Needle felting is a technique which uses a barbed needle to tangle different layers of wool together, resulting in a more compact and dense clump. Ms Pearlyn Wang, 22, has been needle felting for two years. She sells her miniature handmade figures at www.etsy.com/shop/bunnyfelts.

The final-year business student at Singapore Management University says: "When needle felting, be sure to do it against a soft backing, or your needle may crack or break."

Here, she shows how to make a felted bunny.

✉ lting@sph.com.sg

Undergraduate Pearlyn Wang (left) has been doing needle felting for two years.
ST PHOTOS: LISABEL TING